

Bengali Association of North Carolina
Presents

Modern and Semi-Classical Bengali Songs
by

Shubhashish Mukherjee

Accompanied by

Dipankar Bhaumik on Tabla &
Namita Kundu on Harmonium

Shubhashish started his vocal training in North Indian classical music with his father and uncle at the early age of six. Later his formal training started with Pandit Chinmoy Lahiri and subsequently with his son Sri Shyamal Lahiri. In the year of 1988 he became a disciple of India's greatest violin virtuoso, Padmabhushan Pandit V.G. Jog. Now he continues his vocal training under Pandit Ajoy Chakrabarty, scion and doyen of the Patiala Gharana.

Shubhashish has given many concerts in India & US. He has also given lecture demonstrations at music departments in various universities. He is currently teaching in the greater Washington area. To get information about his CD's, concerts and music lessons, please visit his website <http://www.swarmandal.com>.

Dipankar (Dipu) Bhaumik is a versatile and renowned musician, and a fine percussionist. He is equally adept in various rhythmic instruments from Tabla, Khol, Dholok, Nakara, Bongos, Kongos and many more instruments. He has accompanied famous singers like Sandhya Mukherjee, Shyamal Mitra, Dwijen Mukherjee Suchitra Mitra, Subir Sen - to name just a few. He balances his artistic talent with his professional life by managing and running a successful technology consulting firm SOLUTRON, INC. in Washington area, which he cofounded in the Washington DC area in 1994 with his wife Champa.

Namita Kundu is an accomplished vocalist, lyricist, music composer and conductor. She received a Sangeet Prabhakar in classical Indian vocal music and a Sangeet Bhusan in Najrulgeeti.

She has collaborated as lyricist and composer on several musical albums by renowned vocalists, like Haimanti Shukla, Sreekanta Acharya, Indrani Sen and Jojo. She has received an award from the Maryland State Arts Council as a music composer. Professionally she is a biochemist engaged in cancer research as a faculty at the University of Maryland, Baltimore.

October 20, 2012 (Saturday)

BANC Durga Puja Cultural Program

At East Chapel Hill High School, Chapel Hill, North Carolina 27514